

residential, commercial, and industrial construction, along with a county-wide fee of $250/acre for platted subdivisions, condominiums, townhomes, and planned unit developments. The implementing agreement describes the mechanisms of implementation of the measures in the HCP.

Three alternatives are under consideration in the draft Washington County Habitat Conservation Plan Environmental Impact Statement (Statement). Issuance of the permit with the mitigation, minimization, and monitoring measures outlined in the HCP is the Service's preferred action and is discussed above. The Statement also outlines alternative measures that may be considered by the Service in issuing the permit. The second alternative analyzed is somewhat similar to the first alternative, except that a smaller desert habitat reserve is proposed. The proposed reserve under this alternative is 44,451 acres, and the incidental take area is 15,128 acres. Unlike the preferred alternative, and counter to what is recommended in the desert Tortoise Recovery Plan, this alternative excludes Zones 1 and 2 (west of Utah Highway 18) from the reserve. This alternative was not identified as the preferred alternative primarily because the small size of the reserve would not allow for the long-term survival of the desert tortoise, and accordingly, would preclude the possibility of recovery of the species (i.e., removal from the endangered species list). The third alternative selected for detailed evaluation is an alternative of no action. The No Action alternative was not identified as the preferred alternative because it would diffuse existing regional conservation planning efforts for the desert tortoise and possible concentrate activity on individual project needs and not meet the purpose and need of the Applicant. Development of private lands in desert tortoise habitat would be governed by the Act section 7 (if applicable) and section 9. Additionally, the No Action alternative would not provide the benefits of long-term recovery efforts for the desert tortoise identified in the HCP. Without protection, this population of desert tortoise would likely not persist in proximity to these urban areas over the long-term without comprehensive, long-term conservation measures.

In the development of the Statement, the Service initiated action to ensure compliance with the purpose and intent of National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). Scoping activities were undertaken preparatory to development of the Statement with a variety of Federal, State, and local entities. A Notice of Intent to prepare the Statement was published on December 2, 1991 (56 FR 61259), five public scoping meetings pursuant to NEPA were held in December 1991 in Washington County, and an additional public open house and question-and-answer session was held in St. George, Utah, on February 22, 1995. The purpose of this meeting was to update the public on changes made to the previous draft of the HCP.

Key issues addressed in the Statement include: (1) Impacts to the economy of Washington County, (2) Impacts on threatened, endangered, and sensitive species, (3) impacts on multiple-use activities in reserve areas, (4) impacts on State school trust lands, (5) impacts to private landowners, (6) impacts to livestock grazing and other agricultural practices, and (7) impacts on Virgin River flows.

The underlying goal of the proposed action is to develop and implement a program designed to ensure the continued existence of the species, while resolving potential conflicts that may arise from otherwise lawful private projects. The HCP creates an ongoing administration for the purposes of minimizing, mitigating, and monitoring impacts on the desert tortoise, as well as a framework for providing protection for candidate and sensitive species.

Authority

The authority for this action is the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.) and the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.).
